Mrs. Fender is a daughter of Mrs. Evie Keen of Canal Point and is a former resident of this community. Mrs. Fender, while earning her diploma, also earned the Principal's Award and the School's Citizenship Award.

Funeral Services For Pete deMoya

He was most recently a supervisor of the land division of Florida Power and Light.

District 4 (Lower East Coast-South Florida)	$123.2 million.

The largest individual job in the primary listings is $2.8 million for 6.7 miles of paving on U. S. 27 in Palm Beach County from Lake Harbor to South Bay.

Mrs. Angas Sawyers of Pensacola is the house guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cooper.

ATTEND CONFERENCE

Rev. Robert A. Shelley, pastor of the Canal Point Methodist Church, and Rev. Thomas C. O'Steen, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Pahokee, and Mrs. O'Steen, are attending the annual Methodist Conference in Lakeland, this week.

Amy-Roell Young Is '63 Valedictorian

Amy-Roell Young, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Wilburn Young and Wayne Anthony Boynton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Tom Boynton of Pahokee, walked away with high honors in Pahokee high school and as a result Miss Young will be the salutatorian at Commencement exercises scheduled for tonight in the Gymnasium.

Last week when the list of graduates was released by Principal Brooks Henderson, the two honor spots could not be filled at that time. It was necessary to wait until last Friday when final grades were in to decide to whom top honors should go—that, of valedictorian. Miss Young's grades were a minute fraction higher than Young Boynton's and the selections were announced after the final calculating was completed.

30-Year Rotary Pins Are Awarded

Dr. Wilburn C. Young of Canal Point and John V. Thomas of Pahokee received 30-year membership pins at the Thursday meeting of Pahokee Rotary Club. The pins were presented by President Ernest C. Johnson. Dr. Young and Mr. Thomas are past presidents of the club.

The presentation of the pins followed the regular program which was under the direction of Lynn Shirley. Past President Paul Rardin, who will receive his 30-year pin a year from this coming October, presented the two men to the club along with their wives for the ceremony.

During the brief ceremony before the presentation Rotarian Rardin showed members the file of The Everglades News printed the year Mr. Thomas and Dr. Young became members of the club 30 years ago. He read a few ads which showed pink salmon 3 cans for 25c, Chevrolet car $435, bread 5c a loaf, white bacon 6c a pound, etc.

Mrs. Rardin was also present and Rotarian Rardin introduced her and pointed out that she and Mrs. Thomas have spent every Thursday together for the past 29 years—which in itself must be some kind of a record. The times they have missed their regular weekly visits have been few.

More P. B. Cash Goes To Glades Co.

Glades County, which now owns a bigger chunk of Lake Okeechobee because of recent legislation, also is $25,000 richer at the expense of Palm Beach County.

A boundary error of 31 years is the reason, according to the State Supreme Court which has ruled that Palm Beach County must pay the $25,000 in disputed tax funds. The cash has been held in escrow since last year.

The court ruled that tax money accruing only during 1962 should be paid, although it noted that Glades lost taxes paid to Palm Beach County for 31 years because of the boundary error.

The mistake was discovered in legal research last year as Glades, Okeechobee, Hendry and Martin Counties banded together to get a share of Lake Okeechobee.

The attempt bore fruit recently when the legislature split the big lake, cutting Palm Beach County out of an approximate $111,000 annually in gasoline tax allocations. Area is a factor in appropriating fuel tax funds for road jobs.

Georgia Man Victim Of Auto Accident

An accident at 5:30 p. m. Wednesday five and one-half miles east of Canal Point took the life of J. W. B. Wilbanks of Cairo, Ga. The accident occurred when his truck rammed into a car parked on the side of the road while a tire was being repaired. The parked car belonged to Leroy Miners, Pahokee used car dealer.

THE FARM FRONT

BY DOYLE CONNER
COMMISSIONER
FLORIDA DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Don't think for a minute that visible dangers from use of chemicals in agriculture production are being swept under the rug.

Long before Rachel Carson's bombshell "Silent Spring" started last year the public debate over pesticides and their threat to human and animal health, research scientists were on the trail of new methods for combatting livestock and plant pests.

Take the boll weevil. This stubborn insect, costing cotton growers millions of dollars every year, is the subject of a 5-pronged attack by researchers according to recent U. S. Department of Agriculture reports. New biological, chemical and mechanical approaches to the boll weevil problem are said to have some promise.

Eradication of weevils on a Louisiana test plot was accomplished by release of males which had been sterilized by chemical means and turned loose on the female population. That method is similar to our Florida eradication of screwworm except that we reared the flies and sterilized them by means of radiation.

Use of parathion spray may reduce a weevil population to the point where it can be completely eradicated by the sterile male method.

A microscopic organism has been found which causes a deadly infection in weevils. Perhaps it can be spread in fields to totally eliminate the pest.

One of the latest devices is a machine like a big vacuum cleaner which moves along between rows, picking up larvae-infested cotton flower buds after they fall to the ground, grinding them up and blowing them out. Used every five days, it keeps weevils under control well enough to insure a good crop without using pesticides.

Also, cotton itself supplies three substances, one of which is a repellent that might be bred back into cotton plants in amounts sufficient to repel weevils entirely. A second substance is an attractant which could be used in lures containing poisons or baited with the chemical to sterilize the males. Third is an appetite stimulant. Weevils are gluttons for it and will attack anything it used on. If on a non-nourishing substance, like cork or wood, the weevils eating it will soon starve to death.

In the meantime, scientists are reported to be stepping up their worldwide search for natural enemies of insects we class as pests: predators that devour the pest, parasites that lay eggs in or on its body, and bacteria, viruses and fungi that kill the pest with its own diseases.

Incidentally, I note that "Silent Spring" slipped off the best seller list for May 3, the first time it has not been included since it came on the market last fall.

It requires a 104-page catalogue to list all the pamphlets, books and bulletins available from the U. S. Department of Agriculture. That's probably one reason why some people think the big Federal agency can tell anybody how to do anything.

Many thousands of requests for information are received daily. Some recently noted examples:

"Please forward any information you have concerning the propagation of the turkey. Does the goose have anything to do with it?"

"Could you send me information on the conservation of extinct plants and animals?"

"I am interested in a booklet on buying a tombstone."

"Please send me any material about anything."

My own office also gets a large number of unusual requests in the mail during the year. Here are two that came to my desk recently: "Please send me some Florida wildlife." "I am asking if Florida would be interested in an orange and grapefruit picking machine. If you are interested in this machine, I will put on simple sketches for you for a fee (sic) million dollars."

The world sugar situation is tight and prices have been rising. According to USDA, the Northeast, dependent on offshore sources for its supplies, has seen prices rise from 9.9 cents a pound on January 1 to 12.1 cents as of April 30.

Washington reports indicate continued strength. In the meantime, the quota for mainland cane sugar (Florida and Louisiana) has been upped by 98,463 tons to a total of 1,009,873 short tons, raw value, for the calendar year 1963.

Methodist Bible School June 10-15

The Canal Point Methodist church Bible School will open Monday, June 10, and continue thru June 15. Sessions will start at 8:30 a. m. and continue until 11 a. m. each day. Instructors have been named by church officials and music will be under the direction of Rev. and Mrs. Lewis.

The State Railroad and Public Utilities Commission is pondering requests for higher truck rates in Florida. Some want an increase as high as 15 per cent.

June Meeting Of WMU Held Tuesday

The June meeting of the Woman's Missionary Union of the Pahokee First Baptist Church was held at the church Tuesday morning, with the vice president, Mrs. Clewde Shirley, Sr. presiding. Mrs. Guthrie Colvard presented the program, "Co-Laborers For The Truth."

The new slate of officers which is incomplete, will be announced at the July meeting.

GABALDON TO SPEAK

Val Gabaldon, 179 Barfield Hwy, Pahokee, who is a member of the graduating class of Palm Beach Junior College, will present the farewell address on behalf of the graduating honorary speech students at the annual banquet of Phi Rho Pi in West Palm Beach, Saturday evening. It has been Phi Rho Pi, the national speech society, that has sponsored Val in the various tournaments during the past two years when he won awards in debating, impromptu and persuasive speaking.

Sugar Increase Seen For '64 Crop

CLEWISTON — Sugar cane growers in Florida's Everglades are planning to increase their plantings next fall. The U. S. Department of Agriculture has announced that all restrictions are off the 1964 crop.

The action, which removes all quotas of sugar acreage, is the result of a world shortage of sugar and the recent soaring of sugar prices.

The United States Sugar Corporation, with mills at Clewiston and Bryant, will plant an additional 12,000 to 15,000 acres this fall, according to Harry T. Vaughn, president of the company which is the largest producer of raw sugar in the continental United States.

Vaughn, recognized as spokesman for the industry, said he feels Florida growers will do all possible to increase their production and alleviate the world shortage of sugar.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rardin were Mr. and Mrs. Ira Womble of Claxton, Ga. whom they hadn't seen in 34 years.

Rupert Mock Is On The Heart Board

Rupert Mock of Pahokee is one of the new board members elected by the Heart Association of Palm Beach and Martin Counties at a meeting held May 30, at the Town House in West Palm Beach. Awards and certificates were presented to a number of volunteer workers for their outstanding service. A budget of $85,412.52 was approved for the new year which begins July 1.

"Today we need a nation of Minute Men citizens who regard the preservation of freedom as a basic purpose of their daily life"

—JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY

10 days after his inauguration
as the 35th President of the United States.

Twenty years ago, in the dark, uneasy days before Pearl Harbor, the Minute Man of Concord, timeless symbol of our Nation's determination to defend its freedom, emerged as the emblem of the U. S. Savings Bonds Program. When war came, the Minute Man became the rallying force behind the huge and overwhelmingly successful effort to back our fighting men with War Bonds.

In this, the 20th anniversary year of Savings Bonds, the Minute Man of Concord calls all Americans to an unremitting effort to help preserve our peace and freedom, threatened by forces more powerful and resourceful than those we faced in 1941. Though this effort will take many forms, one way open to all is the continued investment in Shares in America, U. S. Savings Bonds, by "citizens who regard the preservation of freedom as a basic purpose of their daily life."

The average schooling of the prisoners is between the 5th and 8th grades. Rev. Jones cleared up a practice commonly misunderstood by the public when he stated that prisoners were often paroled before the end of their prison terms, so that they could be under the guidance of a parole officer and not just turned loose on society.

More Capital Need Of Ag Industry

"The need for more capital in agriculture is continuing," according to George H. Wedgworth, Vice President of the Farmers Production Credit Association, Miami, Florida, who has just returned from Jacksonville, Florida, where he attended the annual conference for directors of production credit associations on May 28th, and May 29th.

Reports at the conference indicated that the use of capital using technology and reorganization of farm units for efficiency is continuing. This continues to increase the size of farms, and changes the structure of agriculture and the character of individual farm units in many ways.

"Lending institutions must continue to recognize the fast changes taking place in agriculture, and recognize that farming is big business that requires alert and specialized management, large amounts of capital, and flexibility to adapt to needed changes," Mr. Wedgworth said.

According to Mr. Wedgworth, the Credit Bank-PCA System in the District served farmers in Georgia, Florida, and the two Carolinas with over $253,000,000 in 1962. Loan service at present is $28 million greater in the District than a year ago.

"The Farmers Production Credit Association served 209 farmers and growers with loans totalling $13,184,187.00 in 1962 in Broward, Dade, Collier, Palm Beach, Okeechobee, Martin, St. Lucie, Indian River and Monroe Counties," Mr. Wedgworth added.

Other officials of the Farmers Production Credit Association attending the conference included Walter Peterson, Director, Goulds, Florida; Harry B. Matthews, Director, Kendall, Florida; and Chas. B. Long, Jr., General Manager, Miami, Florida.

Pope John Passes Following Illness

Pope John is dead. Millions of his faith and millions of others mourn his passing. Hours after taking office, Pope John, as he wanted to be called, showed himself a personality in his own right. He began making decisions. For the first time in Vatican history, he ordered the cardinals to stay in conclave after his election so he could consult with them further. He himself stayed up late that night writing his first major speech.

His father, a frugal Italian farmer, died at the age of 81. His mother, a real pious woman, died at the age of 85. It is said that within hours after his birth, she took him to church to be baptized. She had ten children. Three brothers and a sister of Pope John are still living.

Pope John made history by calling an Ecumenical Council last September. He was planning to have this council reconvened this coming September with the hope of concluding it by Christmas. The convoking of an Ecumenical Council is an uncommon step in the Catholic Church. Only 20 such councils have held in its entire history. Pope John's Council is the 21st. He also made history with his beautiful and effective encyclical letter "Mother and Teacher," published about two months ago, which was praised by governments on both sides of the iron curtain.

The eight girls to be presented, upon certification by the Reviewing Council as to the completion of each step will be the recipient of the Maiden Charm and Emblem by the Pastor. The candidates for these awards are Teryl Echols, Kay Hall, Wanda Hitchcock, Candi McCall, Regina Ingram, Glenie Trett, Pamela Ursry and Sandra Wilson.
